CORPORATE GOVERNANCE
This year, it has been 50 years since Elekta was founded. While our expansion did not begin in earnest until the early 1980s, our focus has remained unchanged: to make a meaningful impact on healthcare providers and their patients around the world by delivering the best and safest clinical solutions.

Staying close to our customers and really understanding their needs has enabled us to push the boundaries of cancer care. We have pioneered technologies in neurosurgery with Leksell Gamma Knife, and in radiation therapy with onboard imaging and advanced treatment modalities such as IMRT and VMAT, among others. Our latest breakthrough, the Elekta Unity MR-Linac, continues to gain ground thanks to its superior MR image quality, providing exquisite images of targets and surrounding healthy tissue.

Building on our Swedish heritage, our systematic approach to internationalization began early. We had a simultaneous strategy of reaching out to both the largest healthcare markets and emerging markets. Today, we are diversified with product development and clinical research activities in all major global markets. Since we work with advanced technology in a very complex clinical area, this footprint helps us gain an insight into the differing needs of cancer care around the world.

We have come a long way in 50 years, having grown from a small Swedish company specializing in stereotactic radiosurgery, to a broad global radiation therapy leader with sales in more than 120 countries, around 40 of which we have direct representation.

Elekta has grown to become essential to cancer care globally, as the only major company fully focused on radiotherapy and neurosurgery.

I know that my father, Professor Lars Leksell, would have been proud to see us carry out his legacy, and excited to see us continue to develop clinical solutions, software systems, and services to ensure that our customers and their patients get access to best treatment possible.

But we could not have done it alone. Close cooperation with our customers has been, and will continue to be, essential for our ability to develop technology that makes a difference for patients. I would therefore like to extend my sincere gratitude to our customers, employees, and many others and thank them for their support and contribution throughout the years.

We saw geopolitical tensions rising and the outbreak of a large war in Europe in February 2022, when Russia invaded Ukraine. This will exacerbate the trend of regionalization of supply chains that arguably started with Covid. To ensure we comply with sanctions, and to secure our supply chains, we have strengthened our focus on risk management and compliance.

While the situation in the world might affect the short-term supply chains, it will not affect the elevated post-covid need for cancer care, nor the long-term growing cancer burden. In addition, the shortage and uneven distribution of treatment capacity in the world remains a persistent challenge. Elekta has both a responsibility and a great opportunity to respond to these challenges and strengthen access to cancer care. This is also our key strategic priority in the coming years – ACCESS 2025.

This means continuing to bring imaging into the radiotherapy process and to help clinicians manage the ever-increasing complexity – due to growth in both treatment options and available data – by integrating and systemizing treatment workflows with more efficient software systems. Our knowledge of the disease continues to develop. As we better understand the tumors’ genetics, and with support of other pathological information sources, the personalization of treatment will improve. Going forward, more interplay can be expected with immunotherapy. In addition, we have launched new solutions and programs to strengthen access, particularly in low-income countries, which is the key priority of our social sustainability strategy. The establishment of the Elekta Foundation in 2021 is an important element of this strategy.

Creating value for patients and cancer care demands perseverance and focus. We will continue to think and plan for the long term. This starts by securing efficiency and good governance in our own operations, while addressing our sustainability, environmental and social responsibilities. Using our financial resources wisely ensures that we can provide a return to our financial stakeholders, without whom we would not have been able to get to where we are, and where we need to go.

We will keep pushing the boundaries for many years to come. We are here to continue to provide hope and help for everyone dealing with cancer.

Laurent Leksell
Chairman of the Board

“Elekta has grown to become essential to cancer care globally, as the only major company fully focused on radiotherapy and neurosurgery.”
Elekta AB (publ) is a Swedish public limited liability company listed on Nasdaq Stockholm. Elekta considers good corporate governance, including risk management and internal control, to be an important element of successful business operations as it provides opportunities for maintaining confidence among customers, patients, shareholders, authorities and other stakeholders. Elekta’s Corporate Governance Report 2021/22 has been prepared by Elekta AB’s Board of Directors, in accordance with the Annual Accounts Act and the Swedish Corporate Governance Code, as a separate report from the Board of Directors’ report, and it has been reviewed by Elekta AB’s external auditor.

Elekta’s structure for corporate governance

An overview of Elekta’s corporate governance structure is set out in the illustration below. The different corporate bodies that are included in the structure are described in more detail in this report in the order specified below.

Elekta has implemented and complied with the Swedish corporate governance code (the Code) with one exception during the fiscal year of 2021/22. ELEKTA’S PROCESS FOR INTERNAL CONTROL

Risk management, governance and internal control are key components of Elekta’s strategy and management processes. Elekta’s Board of Directors assumes the overall responsibility for establishing an efficient control of risk management, governance and internal control. The responsibility for maintaining the control systems is delegated to the President and CEO, who is assisted by the Executive Management, other operational managers and coworkers. Functions responsible for risk management, governance and internal control continuously report the current status directly to the Board and/or the audit committee.

Elekta’s personnel will represent the first level of control environment in their day-to-day work and in their management teams. To facilitate the work, there are policies, guidelines and boundaries set by the Executive Management on behalf of the Board. The boundaries should ensure that no individual employee accepts a disproportionate portion of risk or too little risk which may result in missed opportunities and ultimately Elekta not achieving the strategic goals. All employees have the obligation to obtain an appropriate level of understanding within their roles and responsibilities and carry out their responsibilities correctly and completely. Employees are the owners of all risks related to their business operations and are expected to manage these by maintaining good internal control and follow risk and control procedures. Every employee is expected to comply with internal policies, procedures and applicable laws and regulations.

The next stage of control environment lays within the support functions such as finance, IT, HR, compliance, regulatory affairs and quality as well as legal that support and monitor the first level of controls.

The final stage of control environment is the internal audit function that provides independent and objective audits, assurance and advisory support to the management on governance, preparation of decisions, risk management and internal control.

The process for risk management and internal control applies for the entire Group, including business lines, regions, functions, management, coworkers, processes and technology. The Elekta risk work is focused on identifying and managing strategic risks, operational risks, legal and regulatory risks, external risks and market- and financial risks. Risk assessments are being completed and updated continuously in order to identify risks that can impact the achievement of strategy goals, legal compliance and regulations and financial reporting.

The Board also continuously manages decisions that include risk management, for example, within the Elekta strategy and management processes and business management. Find out more about risk management in the Board’s report on risk management and internal control over financial reporting on page 83. A description of how other risks are being managed can be found in the risks and risk management section on page 36.
Report on risk management and internal control over financial reporting

The Board of Directors’ report on risk management and internal control over financial reporting has been prepared in accordance with the Annual Accounts Act and the Swedish corporate governance code, and constitutes an integral part of the corporate governance report. The external financial reporting has been prepared in accordance with laws and regulations and applicable accounting standards, namely the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), and other requirements on listed companies, such as the Nasdaq Stockholm Rule Book for Issuers. Elekta’s work on risk management and internal control over financial reporting is based on the 2013 updated internal control – integrated framework (the “framework”), established by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO). The COSO framework is based on 17 fundamental principles linked to five components: control environment, risk assessment, control activities, information and communication, as well as monitoring.

Objective
The Elekta Group is governed and controlled based on the distribution of rights and responsibilities, including decision-making, among different corporate bodies according to laws and regulations as well as internal steering documents. A structure is provided through which Elekta’s objectives and the means of attaining these objectives and monitoring performance are set. The objectives reflect choices made on how the Group seeks to create, preserve and realize value for its stakeholders. Governance is twofold; it concerns both effectiveness and accountability. Effectiveness is measured by performance, and accountability includes all issues surrounding disclosure and transparency.

Objective setting is a prerequisite necessary to internal control and a key part of the Elekta strategy and management processes. Therefore, Elekta’s corporate governance encompasses both the strategy and management processes, outlining the establishment of both long-term objectives and strategies with at least a three-year perspective and short-term objectives and plans with a one-year perspective, and the risk management and internal control process.

Control environment
Important elements of the control environment applicable for Elekta’s financial reporting are the financial guide, including the accounting policy, reporting instructions, authorization policy and finance policy. In addition, there are other important elements of the control environment for financial reporting such as the communication policy and processes and work instructions to be found in group-wide steering documents and in the Elekta business management system.

Risk assessment is carried out continuously throughout the year in order to identify risks that can affect the possibility to reach targets set in relation to the strategy, the business, reporting and compliance.

Risk assessment
Risk assessment includes identifying any risk that the qualitative characteristics of useful financial information, according to IFRS, may not be fulfilled or the financial reporting assertions may not be supported. Risk assessment criteria include occurrence, completeness, accuracy, cut-off, classification, existence, rights and obligations, and valuation for profit and loss and balance sheet items in the financial reporting as applicable, but also information processing relating to input, processing and recording of data. A risk assessment regarding internal control over financial reporting is performed once a year and covers profit and loss and balance sheet items in the financial reporting and related areas and processes. The work is documented in a risk map and included in risk and control matrices (RACMs) per area and process.

Control activities
Control activities mitigate the risks identified to achieve set objectives through adherence to risk tolerance levels in terms of globally defined minimum internal control requirements over financial reporting. The control activities are documented in RACMs per area, process and risk.

Control activities are aimed at preventing errors and irregularities from occurring and/or detecting errors and irregularities that may have occurred. Control activities can be manual or automated, such as authorizations and approvals, verifications, reconciliations, and business performance reviews, or a combination of two.

Control activities comprise the following areas and processes:
- Entity-level controls – over the control environment
- General IT controls – over IT system components, processes and data for a given IT environment including logical access, program change management, back-up and recovery
- Process controls – over processes such as order recognition, order to cash, revenue recognition, purchase to pay, inventory, payroll and financial statement close
The globally defined minimum internal control requirements over financial reporting comprise entity level controls that are regulated through Elekta’s steering documents at Group-wide level, the business management system and internal control frameworks of standard controls that include general IT controls and uniform process controls for all Elekta companies and locally defined controls where necessary. The controls included in the internal control framework are documented in RACMs as standard models for all entities and then specifically for each individual entity. All controls in the internal control framework are based on risk assessments of financial flows that impact the financial reporting in general and more specifically for the individual entities.

Information and communication

Information and communication regarding risk management and internal control over financial reporting relates to both internal and external information and communication.

Internal information about important internal steering documents for risk management and internal control over financial reporting, including RACMs, as well as the communication policy and processes, work instructions and other relevant information in the Elekta business management system, are channeled down the organization and communicated to relevant personnel on the Group’s intranet. Internal information regarding the status of the effective design and operating effectiveness of risk management and internal control over financial reporting are channeled up the organization, based on the result of the monitoring, in order for management at different levels to be able to take corrective actions as necessary. The President and CEO and the Chief Audit Executive in turn inform the audit committee and the Board, respectively, of the results of the monitoring in order for them to be able to fulfill their oversight responsibility. This communication normally takes place at the ordinary audit committee meetings and board meetings, respectively.

Elekta provides the financial markets and other stakeholders with continuous external information and communication regarding the Group’s and Elekta AB’s financial performance and position in accordance with the communication policy.

External information and communication regarding financial reporting is provided in the form of:

- Interim reports, year-end reports and annual reports
- Press releases on news and events that may significantly affect the Group’s valuation and future prospects
- Presentations and telephone conferences for financial analysts, investors and media representatives on a regular basis

See information, including reports, press releases and presentations, on the Elekta website www.elekta.com. Elekta observes a silent period prior to each interim and year-end report.

Monitoring

Monitoring of internal control over financial reporting is carried out through ongoing evaluations, separate evaluations, or some combination of the two, to ascertain whether the five components of risk management and internal control are present and functioning: control environment, risk assessment, control activities, information and communication, as well as monitoring.

Special evaluations may be performed through:

- Periodic reviews of whether risk management and internal control are operating as intended by financial managers and general management at local, regional, business area and Group level as applicable
- Internal control compliance confirmation questionnaire, a tool for local management to report on the status of effective design and operating effectiveness of the globally defined minimum internal control requirements over financial reporting documented in RACMs
- Internal audit according to the internal audit plan

Instructions and budget approvals of internal control for financial reporting are conducted by the audit committee on behalf of the Board and require supporting documentation in the form of presentation of status, progress and solutions, as well as supporting appendices such as internal audit reports and internal control reports. Status, progress and solutions for internal control over financial reporting are discussed at the audit committee meeting and instructions are documented and, where approvals are required, approvals are performed and documented accordingly. The audit committee subsequently briefs the Board of Directors at the next board meeting and provides supporting documentation for discussion and approval.
